6. QUESTION PAPER SETTING MECHANISM

Process for internal semester question paper setting

As per conventional semester system (SS) curriculum of Shivaji University, Kolhapur 20% weightage is allotted to internal (sessional) examination and 80% for end semester examinations for both theory and practical courses. While for CBCS curriculum 25% weightage for internal examination and 75% weightage for end semester theory examination is given. Similarly, for practical courses 30% weightage is given for internal examination and 70% for end semester examination. The new CBCS curriculum is applicable to all classes of B. Pharm means first to final year class.

Internal (sessional) examination papers are set by the respective subject in-charge by following principles of blooms taxonomy. It is recommended to the subject in-charge that question papers are set keeping a balance between questions covering lower, intermediate and higher order thinking skills of the students. This model (LO/IO/HO) is adopted for setting the question papers which includes components for ideal question paper such as multiple-choice questions, short answer questions and long answer questions.

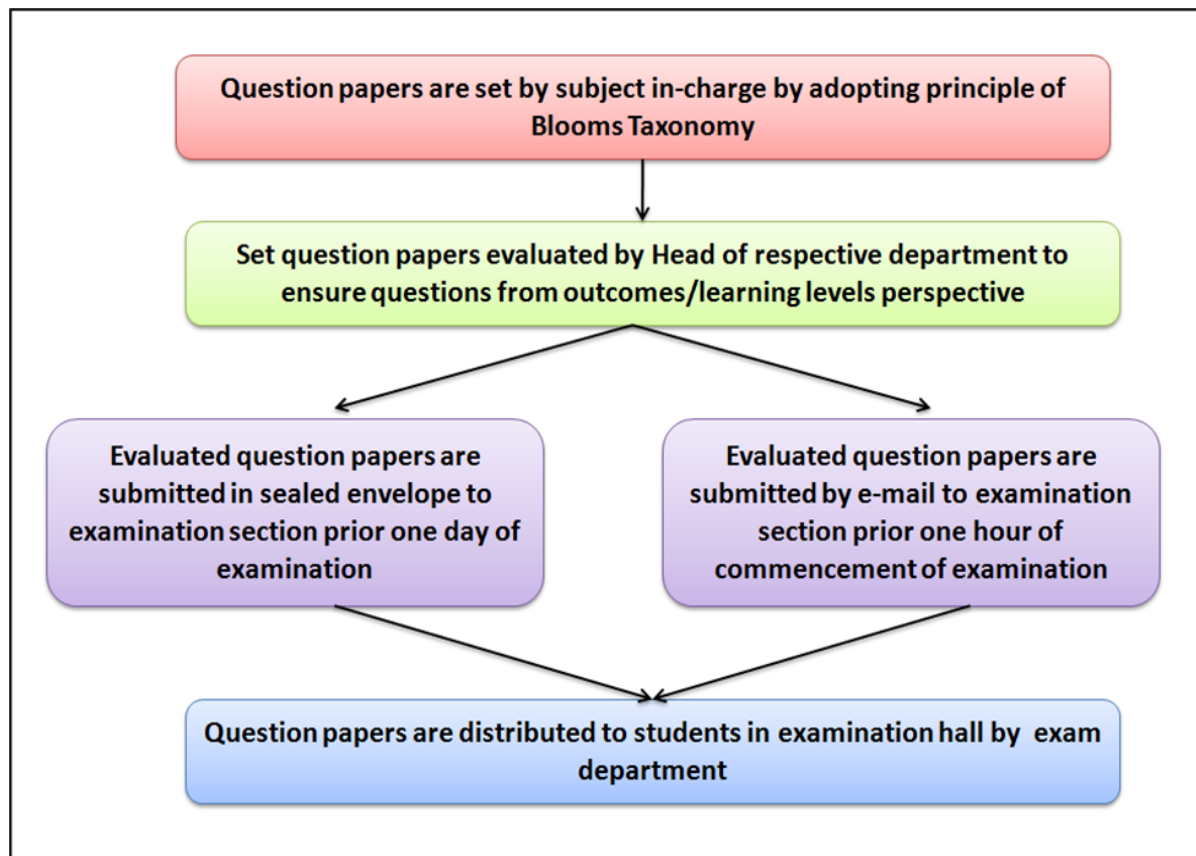

LO – LOCQ: Lower order cognitive questions – To cover questions for testing the remembering and understanding of the concepts by the students.

IO – IOCQ: Intermediate order cognitive questions- To cover questions for testing the application and analyzing skills of students

HO – HOCQ: Higher order cognitive questions-To test the evaluating and creating abilities of the students with respect to their knowledge.

These sets of question papers are set by the subject incharge which are further evaluated by head of respective departments to ensure questions from outcome/learning level perspective and submitted in sealed envelope one day before examination to the examination section. From academic year 2018-19 question papers are submitted to examination section by e-mail one hour before commencement of examination.

Procedure adopted to set internal sessional question papers

Question paper mapping

The teacher should map the questions with Course Outcomes (CO's) in each internal exam question paper. The format will be provided by exam department to the teacher.
