On 15th November 2019, first report of AICTE-CII Industry linked Technical Institute Survey-2019 ranking by officials of AICTE-CII (Confederation of Indian Industry) Govt. of India, announcing national level rankings in categories of Engineering, Management, Pharmacy and Architecture were announced. It aims to rank institutes on objective parameters on national scale, which can help in promoting healthy competition among the institutes and can provide better information to various stakeholders of the society.

This framework outlines a methodology to rank institutions across the country. This survey, which has been developed by AICTE-CII (Confederation of Indian Industry) in close consultation and coordination with AICTE, serves a different purpose – that of mapping the industry linkages of institutes. From that perspective, its objective is different from that of the government ranking which is meant to inform parents about the performance of institutes. The purpose of this survey is to inform industry about best institutes to scout talent from.

There were four levels of statistical screening and shortlisting. The Short Survey entries were pruned to 3842. From that 714 submitted the Full Survey. Evaluation of Institute out of 100, 28 institutes which had scored 50 or above, only six institutes have a score of 60 or more. Platinum (high industry linkages) category was kept at above 30, Gold category was kept at below 30 (10-29), Silver category was kept at below 10.

The methodology draws from the overall recommendations broad understanding arrived at by a Core Committee set up by AICTE-CII, to identify the broad parameters for ranking various institutions. The parameters broadly cover “Governance, Curriculum, Faculty, Infrastructure, Services/Project/ Skill Development & Placements. Ranking methods have been worked out for 4 categories of institutions i.e., Engineering, Management, Pharmacy, Architecture.
